

PROPHECY FULFILLED

Greenbrier White Sulphur
Loses None of Its Prestige.

MANY FAMILIAR NAMES

Richmonders Will Summer at the Popular Resort—Baltimoreans Who Have Engaged Cottages for the Season—Other Guests.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
GREENBRIER WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, June 27.—The season opened here this week most auspiciously, the weather has been fine, and the wall of rain and fog has not been heard from the White.

In fact, the place never has looked more beautiful, and the cool, crisp days have been so conducive to outdoor life that those who have arrived early have been congratulating themselves.

Many of the cottages are occupied and the hotel is filling up every train brings in new arrivals. This year the Southern continent have been the first to come, and Charleston, Savannah and other Southern cities are more than usually well represented at this date. The bookings show that Richmond, Baltimore and Washington will send more than their accustomed representation this year.

The prophecy made by Mr. Charles Dun-ton Warner just after the war, "that the White Sulphur would hold its own, in spite of competition," has been verified.
It becomes more cosmopolitan all the time, and while essentially Southern in its informality of life, it attracts a number of representative Northern people.

There have been a number of improvements made here since last year in the hotel, cottages and grounds. The Casino, which proved such an attraction last season, promises to continue to be popular, and even now is the rendezvous for the young set. Bridge promises to outclass other games of cards.

FAMILIAR NAMES.
Richmond, always loyal to the old White, will be well represented this season, and many Virginians will spend the summer here.

Among the first arrivals from Richmond will be Mrs. Archer, the Misses Archer, Mr. John P. Branch, Mr. and Mrs. Barton, Mr. Grundy, Mr. Frederick R. Scott, Miss Scott, Miss M. Lyons, Mr. and Brace, from Milton, N. C.; Mrs. J. K.

Connelly, of Asheville, N. C.; Mr. and

Colonel and Mrs. Cotton, of Wilmington, N. C.; General M. C. Butler, of South Carolina; ex-Senator and Mrs. Lindsay, of Kentucky, are some of the other guests well known in Richmond.

Among the Baltimoreans also are many names familiar to Richmond. Those who have engaged cottages are Dr. and Mrs. William T. Howard, Mrs. Walter Prescott Smith, Mrs. Davies Murdoch, Mr. Thomas Clendenen, Mr. Archibald Taylor, Miss Lee, Miss Poutney, Mr. and

OLD LANDMARK GONE

House Famous in Reconstruction Days Being Torn Down.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BOYDTON, VA., June 27.—Rev. Frank Strinefellow has returned from Norfolk, where he was the son of John Strinefellow, who had his leg broken on a ranch in California. In the winter, and was sent to a hospital in Norfolk for treatment.

The dwelling house of John Watson, the great benefactor of the negroes of Mecklenburg, in reconstruction days, is being torn down. Watson was the first leader of the Reconstruction party in the county after the war, and no party leader ever exercised a more despotic power.
His word was law with his supporters.
This place of all the great political gatherings of reconstruction days and from which all orders were sent out as to who should receive the support of the Republican party.

Boydton has, perhaps, one of the most remarkably active business men in the State in the person of Mr. Booker Lloyd.
Mr. Lloyd is in his eighty-ninth year, and he regularly conducts his furniture and undertaking business at his stand, in which he has worked for over fifty years.

CHARITIES AND
CORRECTIONS

Meeting of State Executive Council in Petersburg.

Richmond Proceedings.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, VA., June 27.—The Executive Council of the State Conference of Charities and Corrections held a very enthusiastic and successful meeting at the Central State Hospital Thursday afternoon. There were many prominent workers present, among them being Captain John L. Roper, of Norfolk, president; Mr. George B. Davis, of Richmond, secretary, and Dr. W. F. Drewry, of Petersburg, treasurer; Mr. Robert Gilman, of Albemarle; Mr. J. W. Williams, of Southampton; Mr. Richard A.
Hughes, of Richmond, and Mrs. Albert Bruce, of Richmond, and others. Letters were read from the Petersburg Government, Mr. W. Scott Copeland, and Mrs. E. C. Minor, of Richmond, expressing regret at being unable to attend. Other prominent members of the conference are Mrs. Joseph Bryan, of Richmond; Dr. M. Fletcher, Mr. W. A.
Bowles, of Staunton; Mr. Charles Hutz-ler, of Richmond, and Mr. James L.
Treadway, of Chatham.

The principal object of the meeting was to arrange for the publication of the proceedings of the conference held in Richmond in February. The committee decided to publish one thousand copies for distribution among the members and others interested in the important work. The publication committee is composed of Dr. W. F. Drewry, Mr. Robert Gilliam, of Petersburg, and Mr. George B. Davis, of Richmond.

An auxiliary committee, consisting of Mr. George B. Davis, of Richmond; Dr.
W. F. Drewry, and Mr. Robert Gilliam, of Petersburg, and Miss Margaret B.
Roper, of Norfolk, was appointed to recommend subjects and speakers for the next annual conference. This committee will meet in Richmond in July. The executive council and all the officers will meet in Norfolk in October to select subjects and speakers for the annual conference, which will be held in Norfolk in February.

Mrs. Joseph Bryan, of Richmond, was appointed chairman of the committee, with power to enlarge her committee.

The report of the treasurer shows the treasury to be in a healthy condition.
There are now more than two hundred members of the conference. The annual membership fee is one dollar. All those connected with the conference are enthusiastic workers, and there are none less than more enthusiastic than Captain John L. Roper, of Norfolk. In the meeting to-day such terms as "glorious" and "eminently successful" were used by the members in speaking of the conference and its work. It is an exceedingly commendable work that these people have undertaken, and they are meeting with encouragement on every hand.

Their object is to enlist people at large in many ways in a noble and sentimental in its interest. The conference is non-sectarian, and both males and females are eligible for membership. The meeting recently held in Richmond was one of the most successful yet held by the conference, and many thought it was equal to any meeting of the National conference they had attended.

Any person desiring to co-operate with the conference in carrying out its work can send their name to Mr. George B. Davis, of Richmond, or Dr. W. F. Drewry, of Petersburg.

Petersburg at present is the only important city in Virginia which lacks a branch of the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities.

Branches of this association have been established in Massachusetts and New England. The association of Mrs.
Crawford Horace Toy and Mrs. Roger A.
Pryor, respectively. Efforts are now being made to establish a branch in this city, and Mrs. Mary E. Pryor, of Richmond, has been appointed to make a meeting within the next week or two.
She has already received the names of several applicants for membership, and will doubtless have a flourishing chapter in this city.
